

Thursday, 9th & Friday, 10th
September 2021
On-line programme

In association with Orkney Science Festival website: oisf.org www.youtube.com/user/OISFestival

Thursday, 9th September

Sustainable Aviation

- 14:00 – 14:15 David Holden, SATE Project Manager, HIAL gives an overview of the Sustainable Aviation Test Environment (SATE), project based at Kirkwall Airport and its progress over the last 10 months.
- 14:15 – 14:30 Andrew Rae, Chief Engineer, Ampaire discusses the Ampaire hybrid electric aircraft and the recent flights between Kirkwall and Wick.
- 14:30 – 14:45 German Moreno, Regulatory Lead, Windracers Drone operations and how the Sustainable Aviation Test Environment at Kirkwall Airport offers a great opportunities for new technology.
- 14:45 – 15:00 Questions to panel.
Chaired by Howie Firth, Director of the Orkney International Science Festival.
-
- 4.00 - 5.00pm Looking to the Future - Loganair
Andy Smith, Head of the Sustainability Strategy at Loganair, gives an insight into Loganair's future development plans.
- 6.00 - 7.00pm Britten Norman's Islander
David Shaw, non-Executive Director of Britten Norman, shares their vision of the next generation of the iconic Islander.

Friday, 10th September

- 2.00 - 3.00pm 'The de Havilland Dragon Rapide in Scottish Air Service - before during and after'
Aviation historian Iain Hutchison talks about the de Havilland Dragon Rapide, that flew in Scottish skies from the 1930s-50s, regularly used in Orkney by the likes of Highland Airways and was still used by BEA well into the 1950s.
- 4.00 - 5.00pm The De Havilland Dragon Rapide Experience
A discussion about this classic aeroplane with Iain Hutchison, Richard Fresson, son of Ted Fresson, founder of Highland Airways and David Findon, part owner of Scillonia Airways Dragon Rapide G-AHAG which flew to Orkney for the 2015 Orkney Aviation Festival.
- 6.00 - 7.00pm Freedom of the Skies - Aerobility
Howie Firth interviews commercial pilot Shona Bowman, chair of the charity Aerobility about its work to help and encourage disabled people to learn how to fly, her Orkney family connections and flying the Dragon Rapide G-AHAG over Orkney in 2015.

